T 22.2:

Introduction

The Group Exemption Roster has been prepared for distribution to Internal Revenue Service personnel. It is designed to serve as a convenient reference, and to provide key data in the following areas:

(a) Processing applications for exemption (EACS).
(b) Preparing vouchers for the Master File systems.
(c) Processing required returns from exempt organizations.
(d) Responding to information requests concerning organizations holding group exemptions.

This document contains (1) a table of Master File abbreviations for organizations holding group exemptions. These were formerly used in processing the required information returns when an abbreviation was used, rather than the complete name, (2) an alphabetical listing of all central organizations covered by a group exemption still in effect; and (3) a listing, in numerical sequence by Group Exemption Number, of all active group rulings as of this revision date.

The alphabetically sequenced listing includes the following data for each central organization:

Line 1 - the name (first 50 characters).
- the group exemption number.
- the employer identification number.

Line 2 - the IRC subsection code (Note: the central organization's subsection code is not necessarily the same as that of the subordinates).
- the type of foundation code (always 00 unless the IRC subsection code is 03).
- the classification code(s).
- the ruling date.
- the status code.
- the file folder number.

Line 3 - the primary activity code(s).
- the deductibility code and year.
- the city and state.

At the end of the alphabetic listing, following the last account, is the total number of active central organizations as of this revision date, e.g. Total Entities 2500.

The numerically sequenced listing includes: the Group Exemption Number assigned; the Employer Identification Number of the central organization; the number of local affiliates under a particular Group Exemption, e.g. NLA004955 indicates 4955 subordinates; and the name of the central organization (first 50 characters) as it is listed on the Master File.

Group exemption procedures are contained in Revenue Procedure 80-27 published in 1980-1 C.B. 667.

Please inform the originating office of any change, omissions or mistakes in writing to:

Attention: E:O:S, Room 2231

Note: The revision date reflected on the cover page of this document does not necessarily reflect the month in which the data was extracted from the Master File. Current procedures provide for its extraction semi-annually, at the end of February and August.
